

ELECTION OVER, SOCIETY SETTLES DOWN AGAIN TO WAR WORK AND LEARNING THE ART OF TAKING CARE OF THE VEGETABLES AND FRUITS WE HAVE

By JULIA A. SHARP.

WELL, the election is over and once more the public settles down to work. The ball to be given tonight by the Elks at Liberty hall for the soldiers will cement all ties anew as the men and women gather to show their regard for these boys in khaki who are ready to make the supreme sacrifice if necessary.

Tuesday the committee of the Navy League will meet and will plan for the men who go down to the sea in ships, that they may be warmly clad while fighting for those who remain behind. Many splendid affairs will be given at the various camps about town and the vicinity by the best artists in the city. Men and women who heretofore have been paid handsomely for their programs and numbers are now giving freely of their very best to relieve the tedium of camp life for the soldiers.

The canning and conservation committee is busy every day attending the classes and planning for the opening of the new community center the latter part of the week at the city market. It will be a broad day for El Paso when its women may see all they wish and at the same time help the Red Cross.

Each woman is expected to do all she can to provide for her family during the stress of the coming winter months, when shipping facilities will be as good as non-existent and when fresh fruits and vegetables will be at almost prohibitive prices.

Miss Lou Stallman, of the United States department of agriculture, said: "Where will you obtain your canned fruits and vegetables for the season?"

"Will it come out of your well stocked pantry?"

"Will you demand that Uncle Sam use the trains which should be used for soldiers and their supplies to bring food to you in El Paso next season?"

"Do you know that no amount of money will buy food for you when there is no food to buy?"

"Do you know that we have more money than anything else just at present in the United States?"

"Do you know that anyone discouraging the preservation and conservation of food stuffs is subject to investigation by the federal authorities, and commits a disloyal act?"

"This is the food that it behooves every woman to use every effort to conserve all she can in fruits, vegetables and meats and the strain upon the nation is a necessary kitchen."

VILLA BAND IS CUT UP PIECES

Federal Troops Scatter a Band in the Vicinity of Jimenez.

Chihuahua, Mexico, July 25.—The last fight between Villa's band and the government forces took place in hacienda Zapata, Jimenez district. There Col. Carlos Echeverria defeated 40 men commanded by Juan Cardenas and Jesus Rodriguez, killing several rebels and dispersing the rest. In Ciudad Guerrero, west of this city, the Indians of Arisachic have surrendered themselves to the "defenses" and will be sent to the mountains or taken prisoner, as the Arisachic Indians were the principal helpers of Villa.

Failure Causes Astonishment. Marcelino Irujo, owner of the El Paso exchange system, is very well known here, where he has some real estate, business and other interests, valued at some thousands of dollars. His failure has made a sensation for these reasons: as everybody believed he had made a fortune in El Paso, where he went as a refugee, flying from the Villa band, and establishing a money exchange in El Paso.

It is the last camp of this division coming west. He is said and being so far from the headquarters is seldom visited.
